Dear Friends:

Congratulations on recognizing February 6, 2016 as Charleston STEM Festival Day in the Lowcountry and on hosting the Third Annual Charleston STEM Festival at Brittlebank Park.

Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics play very important roles in education and workforce development. I appreciate all the hard work you are putting forth into making STEM a priority. With your continued hard work, I know we will have success in these fields for many years to come.

Again, congratulations on the designation and festival. Future generations of South Carolinians will benefit from your work.

Sincerely,
